WHEN the owners bought this home in Totteridge Common, Whetstone, they had a race against time to ensure the interior was finished before they could actually move in.

The lady of the house was heavily pregnant when the family of three handed over the keys to their new home to Martin Moore of Moores Interiors in Hatch End, just 16 weeks before their planned move.

"After my initial consultation with the client, I decide which one of my designers will be best suited to their needs," explains Martin, who has a team of interior designers working for him, based at his Uxbridge Road shop. "The client contacted me due to her passing our showroom and admiring our windows, initially looking for curtains.
